Jerry made it a point to work on his road car in an effort to get back to top level. I never saw a guy work on his car as much as he did. He had several rolling chassis that were ready for the paint stage, but that never happened. I am glad to see that project back to the planning stage now. If you have a copy of that plan, it would be a lot of fun to analyze that. Jerry made it a point to work on his road car in an effort to get back to top level. I am glad to see that project back to the planning stage now. If you have a copy of that plan, it would be a lot of fun to analyze that. Jerry's original plans were a lot different than what he got done. For example, the original lights had large globe running lights, the front fender and some fender flares were already removed, etc. Jerry's original plans were a lot different than what he got done. For example, the original lights had large globe running lights, the front fender and some fender flares were already removed, etc. Robert I think the original plan was also to have a single over head light, but I'm not sure. That was the only light at the beginning. Jerry took some basic steps toward a new design. Even with his planned direction, there are many things that were changed, like the over head light, the interior, the rear bumper, that steering rack, how much the front wheels would rock, 50b96ab0b6
